Weekly Update

Please remember that Science Rocks Night is going to be next week on Tuesday, April 14th, 2015 beginning at 6:00. Students and their families will be able to participate in numerous science experiments as well as other science related activities. WDA's PTO is also hosting the quarter raffle on this evening! Please come to enjoy the evenings activities and participate in the PTO's fundraiser, we would LOVE to see you there! During reading block this week students practiced identifying facts and opinions within the text they read. We discussed the difference between facts and opinions, picked out facts and opinions from within text we read, and even gave some of our own examples of facts and opinions. This is a skill that can be practiced at home by simply asking your child if a statement that is made within the home is a fact or an opinion and why. Math this week continued to focus on measurement, specifically wight and mass.
